

Monday, November 7, 2022

City Unveils New Public Art Project At Enmarket Arena In Celebration Of Community

By Savannah Tribune | on November 02, 2022

The City of Savannah will host an unveiling of the newly installed public art sculptures, titled Of Communities and the Land and the Trees that Bear Witness to Them on Saturday, Nov. 5, 2022, from 10 a.m. to noon at Enmarket Arena, 620 Stiles Ave.

The City of Savannah commissioned Jerome B. Meadows, a local sculptor, for this project. The art honors the land and history of Savannah, specially the legacy of the African American communities in the Canal District on Savannah’s westside.

The event will include a parade of neighbors with community representatives, an honoring of Indigenous Peoples with Terry Raber representative of Georgia Council on American Indian Concerns and member of North Georgia Cherokee, libations with Lillian Grant-Baptiste, community history by Dr. Amir Jamal Touré, art unveiling, a flower offering, children’s crafts, cultural entertainment and more.

For questions or more information about this event, email Christian Shellman, cshellman@savannahga.gov.

More From Social and Community News

Go To The Social and Community News Section

Barbara White Williams Memorial Scholarship Awarded

City Unveils New Public Art Project At Enmarket Arena In Celebration Of Community

Savannah Branch NAACP To Hold Election of Executive Committee Officers and Members-At-Large

This site uses Akismet to reduce spam. Learn how your comment data is processed.

Newsletter Subscription

The Savannah Tribune

- Home
- Front Page
- Health
- Church
- Social & Community News
- Community Events
- Sports
- Galleries

Our Hometown

DMCA Notices

Newspaper web site content management software and services

Copyright © 2018-2020 The Savannah Tribune. All Rights Reserved.